

IMPORTANT PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT

On August 15, 2018, the full Rainbow Currency (TWNKL) is moving to a new blockchain (TwnklChain). Only TWNKL on PerNum Wallets (www.pernum.com) will be automatically moved. Thus, it is crucial that all TWNKL are transferred from the Ethereum blockchain back into the SafeZone on or before August 14 at 12pm U.S. Pacific time.

Remaining old TWNKL on the Ethereum blockchain won't be supported after the move. Most likely their value will drop to ZERO (US$0.0000).

This is NOT a soft fork or hard fork!

More than 99% of the old TWNKL are already in the main wallet and won't be used anymore after the move. The remaining TWNKL must be transferred to PerNum wallets before the deadline.

TWNKL from any illegal activity (fraud, theft, gambling) won't be moved to the TwnklChain. Rainbow Currency holders who lost TWNKL due to these types of illegal activity will be reimbursed - if possible – after the move.

Our main reasons for moving

Since the launch of Rainbow Currency, we found out that a public blockchain is not the perfect environment for TWNKL. Slow transaction times, high transaction fees, phishing, fraud, and other criminal activities is not what we want for our Rainbow Currency holders.

On top of that, unregulated exchanges allow anonymous traders to manipulate the value and trading volume of all cryptocurrencies. As a result, even Bitcoin is facing a high volatility.

By having Rainbow Currency on it's own private blockchain, the TwinklChain, it allows Rainbow Currency to be independent of other cryptocurrencies, because on the public blockchain, it is dependent on Ether.

As it is our goal to establish a stable economy around Rainbow Currency, a fixed minimum price is crucial for success. Many websites are already accepting TWNKL at the official rate of US$0.01:
